ACCEPTED BMW CLUBS

Guideline No. 4
Status March 2022

ACCEPTED BMW CLUBS

How to become a BMW Club, officially accepted by the BMW Clubs International Council and the BMW Group:

BMW is proud to recognize and support the largest worldwide marque club organisation that includes car drivers and motorcycle riders. We welcome your application to become part of this family and have created these guidelines to assist you.

1.0 Accepted BMW Clubs

- 1.1 The following procedure for acceptance does not apply if an umbrella organisation already exists. Only in cases where there are insurmountable problems with a new club getting integrated into an existing umbrella organisation, may the club bring forward its arguments in writing to the BMW Clubs International Council.
- 1.2 If there is no umbrella club in your territory for your club to join, apply for the status of an Accepted BMW Club. Send your written application to BMW Club & Community Management, which will assist you with and guide you through the procedure of getting accepted. Once all requirements have been fulfilled, your application will be presented to the BMW Clubs International Council for a final decision. If this decision is positive, your club will receive a certificate stating its acceptance, signed by a representative of the BMW Group and the Chairman.
- 1.3 Benefits flowing from acceptance are outlined later in this guideline. Acceptance by the BMW Clubs International Council does not incur any costs or affiliation fees.

2.0 Umbrella Organisation

- 2.1 An umbrella organisation is an association of two or more clubs, which represent the interests of the individual clubs in dealings with the BMW Group in your region or country.
- 2.2 The shared aim of the BMW Clubs International Council and the BMW Group is to have motorcycle and car clubs represented by only one contact partner in each country or region. The purpose of having one point of contact for potentially numerous clubs representing motorcycles and cars is to minimise the workload on the BMW Group, provide a budgetary framework to work to, avoid duplication and ensure effective and consistent communication between the clubs and the BMW Group. This principle also applies to national and regional clubs and their relationship with BMW importers and subsidiaries.
- 2.3 Individual clubs formed under an umbrella organisation should still establish cooperative relationships with local dealerships using the “mutual benefit” approach whereby the club and dealerships assist each other without being a drain on resources of either party.
- 2.4 In the case where a new BMW Club wishes to form in a region or country already covered by an umbrella organisation the club becomes a member of the BMW Clubs International Council by affiliating with the umbrella organisation.
- 2.5 Details of current umbrella organisations can be obtained from BMW Club & Community Management.

3.0 Basic Information

- 3.1 In most cases, members in a country or region will be represented by two clubs: one for cars and one for motorcycles.
- 3.2 The national BMW Clubs can have chapters (e.g., regional or city based), interest groups (e.g. M3 Register, R90S Register), etc.
- 3.3 A national Accepted BMW Club can also represent cars and motorcycles. In this case there would only be need for one national club, and the name of the BMW Club should be appropriate (e.g. “BMW Owners Club of...” or simply “BMW Club of...”).
- 3.4 The International BMW Classic and Type Clubs Section: This is an international association, which groups all special interest BMW Clubs (vintage cars, special types of BMW). To join an International BMW Classic or Type Club, please contact BMW Club & Community Management.
